

Bambang Susantono, Ph.D.

Vice Minister for Ministry of Transportation, Indonesia

Dr Susantono is the Vice Minister for Ministry of Transportation, Republic of Indonesia. He holds a Bachelor in Civil Engineering from the Bandung Institute of Technology, a Master of Science in Civil Engineering (MSCE) in Transportation Engineering, a Master of City and Regional Planning (MCP), and a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.), all from the University of California at Berkeley. He teaches at the Graduate Program and is the program coordinator of Master's program in Infrastructure Management in Civil Engineering at the University of Indonesia.

He is also the President of Intelligent Transportation System (ITS) Indonesia, the President of Civil Engineering Alumni Association of Bandung Institute of Technology, the Board of Trustee of the Southsouth North Foundation in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Dr. Susantono writes academic journals, books and articles in his fields of expertise in infrastructure planning, transportation engineering, and regional development. He speaks in his areas of research in both national and international events.